

Format Example of “Review Article” and “Book Review”

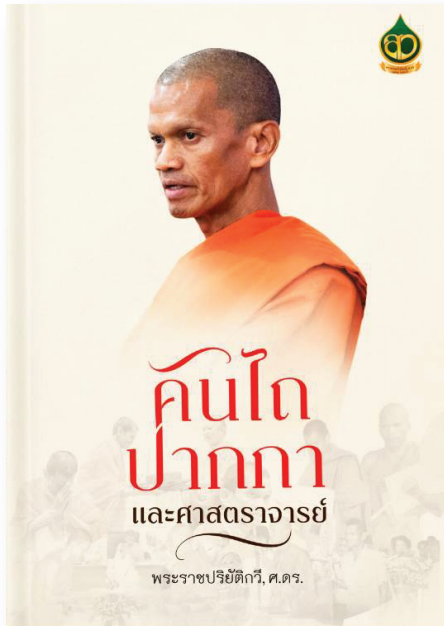

A4 1 inch

English Title (18 pt.)

¹Name and Surname of Author, ²Co-author, and ³Co-author (16 pt.)

¹Organization/ Institute, Country. (14 pt.)

¹Corresponding. Author. Email (14 pt.)

(16 pt.)

Translation of:

Author:

Translated by:

Publisher:

Year of Publication:

Number of Pages:

Introduction (18 pt.) Body text (16 pt.)

(16 pt.) Context and background of the book or the issues being studied

.....
.....

Content (18 pt.) Body text (16 pt.)

(16 pt.) Components of the book or the issues being studied, chapters, categories, characteristics, types, objectives, essences, points of view, perspectives, etc.

.....
.....
.....

(The author should present in order and classified into a category as well as sorting from high to low priority and from main to minor issues by inserting numbered lists, paragraphs, and spaces in a clear and easy to understand manner.)

A4 1 inch

A4 1 inch

The use of numbers throughout the article must be Arabic numerals

Review (18 pt., Body text 16 pt.)

(16 pt.) The author should present principles and concepts through analysis, synthesis, and review that reflect perspectives, reasons, expectations, impacts, and essences according to the academic theories. As well as suggesting the guidelines for improvement, promotion, and further development (put in-text citation if applicable)

.....

.....

.....

.....

Strong PointsWeak Points*Conclusion (18 pt., Body text 16 pt.)

(16 pt.) The conclusion should cover the overview and results of the research. It must reflect the academic values and its utilization. The conclusion should be in narrative form without using the numbered list. The letters must not be set in italics or bold, and no figures or models inserted.....

.....

.....

.....

References (18 pt., Body text 16 pt.)

The reference sources appearing in the entire content must be written as a complete reference list according to the reference guidelines of the Journal. The reference list must be sorted in alphabetical order A-Z. (Do not cite any reference that does not appear in the article content.)

ExampleBook

Author's last name, Author's first initial. (A.D.). Book title. (Edition).

Place of publication: Publisher.

Robbin, N. (2005). Management. (8th ed.). New Jersey: Prentice Hall.

(The author should present in order and classified into a category as well as sorting from high to low priority and from main to minor issues by inserting numbered lists, paragraphs, and spaces in a clear and easy to understand manner.)

