

Age Misreporting

Varachai Thongthai

Age misreporting was widely observed. Age at next birthday was reported more than age at last birthday. Turncating was not the cause of age misreporting but rather people's habit. There were no differences in age misreporting between sexes or among those with different level of education. It should be noted that younger generation tended to report age at next birthday more than older generation.