

A Population Geographer's Population Pyramid

Larry Sternstein

A novel geographic population profile is proffered which provides information about the variation of age-sex values from place to place. Use of this graphic construct in the exploratory analysis of the geography of age-sex structure is demonstrated and advocated.